This week the heavy artillery will go into action in the A. C. B. A. tourney, most of the out-of-town contestants being carded for their matches with a number of the strongest local pinners.

Tomorrow night will be "Baltimore Night." Nine teams from the Oriole city, including the pick of the city's talent, will trot on the alleys at 8:30 o'clock.

The teams from the neighboring towns are Brahmans, Montebellos, Royals, Monays, Imperial, Lexington, Plaza, Regent, and Go-Get-Em.

The next afternoon Johnny Vaeth, Baltimore's particular star, will roll off his duckpin doubles paired with Sam Cunningham. Later in the day Vaeth will perform in his duckpin singles. A large gallery is expected to witness the exhibition of the celebrated little pinman.

Tuesday night is slated as "District League Night." Twelve teams from this circuit will compete. The District is rated with the National Capital as the strongest aggregation in the city. The Jeds, Shermans, Royals, Resolutes, and Good Fellows will all be there with fire in their eyes and plenty of marks on the alleys.

Wednesday night, one of the gala events of the tourney, will take place Wednesday evening, commencing at 7 o'clock. The entire twenty teams of the Maconic Duckpin League are scheduled to roll. The fraternalists are likely to develop considerable strength in the evening, many fall by the wayside when they wade into the wood.

The following score of quints will take part in the rolling:
7 p. m.—3, Myron M. Parker Lodge; 4, Lebanon Lodge; 5, Pentapolis Lodge; 6, Strasburg Lodge; 7, Cedar Lodge; 8, Dawson Lodge; 9, Caria Lodge; 10, Mt. Pleasant Lodge; 11, St. John's Lodge; 12, East Gate Lodge.

Thursday night is "Commercial League Night." Ten of the Commercial aggregations will be seen in action. The Southern Railway quint of this league, the title holders, may prove troublesome.

The teams are:
1, General Baking Co.; 2, Woodward & Lothrop; 3, Southern Railway Co.; 4, Koenig Star; 5, Judd & Dettweiler; 6, Southern Railway Co.; 7, Barber & Ross; 8, Christian Xander; 9, Hecht Co.; 10, Welsbach.

Friday night devotees of the big name game are to have a treat in the rolling of eight of Philadelphia's leading tenpin quints and three Gotham teams. The event will still lead the procession in these towns, not having been replaced by the more modern duck. The following pinners will perform:

1, Wyndham, Phila.; 2, Manufacturers' Club, Phila.; 3, Al Baltz, Phila.; 4, Marquette, Phila.; 5, Saginaw, N. Y.; 6, United of N. Y.; 7, Bohemian, N. Y.; 8, Majestic, Phila.; 9, Wyndham Colts, Phila.; 10, Menin C. C., Phila.; 11, White Elephants, Phila.

Out of town men furnished yesterday's features. T. F. Kelley, after rolling the night before, cut down the speed of his ball yesterday afternoon and topped off in the duckpin singles. Kelley's bowling was the best seen in the tourney, as he started with 110, rolled 92 in the second game, and sent down 145 in his final game. The Lowell bowler supplanted Nick Chaconas, who held high mark with 340.

Danitz and G. Schwabl, of the Cream of Kentucky quint, rolling in the tenpin doubles, gathered 1,137. Schwabl, a local median, rolled a while Danitz went after the pins for totals of 26, 209, and 215, a grand total of 661.

Harry Krauss fell down miserably in the tenpin singles, rolling mediocre scores. Krauss afterward picked five men and handed the Buffalo team a good lacing in a team match, striking out in the last two boxes.

Kennel Show Will Open on Thursday

Washington Society Will Gather in Force to Honor Kings of Canine World.

Washington's annual dog show is booked for the final three days of the week at the Washington Riding and Hunt Club. Twenty-second and P streets, with all society turning out to honor the thoroughbreds of the canine world.

Close to five hundred blue-blooded dogs will be on exhibition, setting a high-water mark for the Washington Kennel Club.

The fight for the honor of being the best dog in the show is expected to be among Ch. York Ryburn Swell, an international champion Alredale, owned by the Hillcote Kennels, Rochester, N. Y.; George W. Quintard's wire-haired fox terrier, Ch. Raby Dazzler; W. Rosa Froctor's international champion Welsh terrier, Ch. Tenny Ringleader; George S. Lane's bulldog, Thunder Boy; and two wonderful unbeaten collies, Ch. Knockklayde King Siam, of the Inma Kennels, West Simsbury, Conn., and Ch. Knockklayde Queen Prim, owned by L. F. Dyson, of Alexandria.

Boston terriers lead all other breeds in the number of entries, but they are closely pursued by bulldogs, Alredales, and beagles. The latest king of fashion, the Sealyham terrier, will be largely represented, while the nobby little wire-haired fox terrier will also attract considerable attention with an unusually good squad.

George F. Foley, superintendent of the show, has completed all details, and when the doors are opened Thursday Washington will be able to boast of the best exhibition it has ever had.

The race was won by Eddie O'Donnell in a Duesenberg. The time was 3:25.52. Joe Thomas in a Mercer was second.

Noel House to Stage Indoor Sporting Card

The second annual indoor athletic meet of the Noel House Settlement Association will be held on Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the gymnasium at Seventeenth and Kramer streets northeast.

The meet will be 50, 100, and 140 yard dashes, one-half mile relay and points, team, three-legged and centipede races, which should create a great deal of excitement and heaps of fun.

Griffmen to Start Season With Yanks

Old Fox Worries About Light Hitting on Eve of Opening of the Campaign.

By LOUIS A. DOUGHER.

The Griffmen open their season in New York Wednesday, and with the curtain almost ready to be raised, the Old Fox is still in doubt as to the lineup he will have this year.

Milan and Foster are the only players hitting anywhere near the form expected, and unless the others begin hitting soon, the team will be left at the post. This is worrying Griff not a little, too, for the first twelve games of the campaign will be with New York and Boston, admittedly hard-hitting outfits.

The pitching staff is coming through nicely. Johnson, Ayres, Harper, and Gellie, with Dumont working now and then, will probably be the first squad of fingers for daily toll. The futures of the other twirlers are shrouded in mist. One or two may hang on till the warm weather, but it is hard picking among Shaw, Rice, Bentley, and Boshling.

Urd Judge and Morgan begin to land on the apple more consistently, the infield will be made up wholly of light stickers, a serious handicap to the pitchers. Muttelson is holding up his own in a hitting way of all the outfielders.

Four games are scheduled with the Yankees, the season opening Wednesday at the Polo Grounds. Next Sunday an exhibition game will be played at Rocky Point, E. I., against the Providence Grays, and next week Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday will be spent battling the Red Sox at Fenway Park.

The big league season in the Capital opens April 20, the Yankees being the exception. With Baker, Geddes, Magos and Gilhooley strengthening the team, Donovan's boys should prove hard customers for the light-hitting Griff.

ALL-AMERICA TEAM TO DINE TOGETHER

Walter Camp Will Sit Down With His Heroes of Gridiron.

SYRACUSE, April 8.—For the first time in football history an All-America eleven will gather when, on April 15, all members of the 1915 mythical team selected by Walter Camp will be the guests of the Syracuse University Athletic Association, at the annual athletic dinner in the John D. Archbold gymnasium.

Invitations to the eleven members of the first team were sent out this week, and already acceptances have been received from a majority of the men. Not one has said it would be impossible to attend. There is every reason to expect all the players will be present and at the same table with Walter Camp, who has agreed to be the principal speaker.

In the past the men selected for their teams have been pleased to accept the honor bestowed upon them. Seldom has further action been taken. Because Syracuse was more prominent in the football world last season than ever before the authorities wish to celebrate in this manner.

The banquet is the occasion when all athletic trophies won during the year are presented the successful men. There are facilities for accommodating 1,000 persons in the main hall of the gymnasium, and there is reason to expect every bit of available space will be utilized.

Every men's organization at the university has made request for reservations, and a large number of alumni have promised to come to help in the celebration.

Invitations have been sent to the following members of Camp's team: Boston, Minnesota; Gilman, King and Mahan, Harvard; Barrett and Shelton, Cornell; Abel, Colgate; Spear, Dartmouth; Peck, Pittsburgh; Oliphant, Army and Schlachter, of Syracuse.

Lannin Breaks Up Wonderful Outfield

Speaker Sold to Cleveland Indians for $50,000 and Two Players.

BOSTON, April 8.—One of the greatest outfields of modern baseball is broken up today, the Boston Red Sox having sold their speaker to the Cleveland Indians for $50,000.

The famous combination of Lewis, Speaker, and Hooper has for years been rated by many as the greatest all-around combination in baseball. Of the trio, Speaker was the hub.

Speaker was a hold-out, because, it is reported, the Red Sox management wanted to cut his salary in half. He has been getting $15,000 a year, and the club felt that with the passing of the Federal League, even Tris was not worth that much money.

Then came the flattering offer of a large lump of cash and the choice of two of the following: Sam Jones, pitcher; Jack Graney, left fielder; Joe Evans, third baseman, or Larry Chappin, center fielder.

It is reported that the salary to be paid Speaker will be over $12,000. He will report to the club headquarters in Cleveland tomorrow.

"CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 8.—I don't believe the sale of Speaker indicated that President Lannin was planning to break up his ball club, as did 'Connie Mac,' said Ean Johnson today.

"Tris will be a wonderful help to the Cleveland club. His presence will enable us to make the other players go at top speed."

Speaker is one of the greatest players in the game," said Dunn, the Cleveland magnate. "We're going to have a real ball club before the season is over. I think we'll be able to buy them."

"Getting Speaker has strengthened our club 100 per cent," said Lee Fohl, Indian manager.

Speaker was sent for sixth place in batting in the American League last year, with a .327 average, of Chicago, with .322. He was really quite a player. Cobb and Eddie Collins were the only regulars who beat him out.

Cobb and Collins were the only players who scored more runs than Speaker who tallied 108. He stole twenty-nine bases, and drew eighty-one passes. He got 17 hits in 52 times up.

In fielding he had more put-outs than any other outfielder in the league, making 152 chances.

Speaker has been one of the big figures in winning two of the world's pennants for the Red Sox. He is the player who perfected the famous hook slide.
